EARL JOHNSON DIES SUDDENLY

WAS A SON OF PETER JOHNSON.

Earl Eldo Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Peter Johnson (died suddenly at the Cosmopolitan hotel here that is being conducted by his parents Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The cause of death was a sudden attack of convulsions. The young man was 20 years old.

Earl who was better known among his friends as "Casey", had been about town as usual that day but wasn't feeling well and in the afternoon retired to his room. None of the family knew he was in serious condition and were greatly surprised and shocked when at 3:30 o'clock he suddenly passed away.

He was born in Frederic May 28 1904, where he attended school and lived until about two years ago when the family retired from their farm and purchased the Cosmopolitan hotel in Grayling at which place they have since resided.

Earl was a very good natured and likable young man, had lots of friends among the boys about town and in his old home of Frederic. He was quite large for his age and it is believed that his unusual growth was partly the cause of his ailment. He had for some time had in mind that he wanted to enter the field of journalism and frequently contributed to publications.

He is survived by his parents, two sisters and three brothers, Helen, Willard, and Raymond of Grayling and Elmer of Onaway and Mrs. E. R. Merly of Gaylord. The funeral is to be held this Thursday afternoon, interment being at Elmwood cemetery. Rev. Allen Schreier of Gaylord is the officiating clergyman. Many floral pieces that covered the casket bespoke the high esteem in which the young man was held by his friends.

Smile and Succeed.
(Written by Earl Eldo Johnson, May 23, 1924)

Never trouble, trouble until Trouble troubles you.
Let each day care for each day's cares
And life's cares will seem but few.

Life's duties have their ups and downs
And change with every day,
But when misfortune comes to you,
Just pass it by and say
Why should I fret and worry,
When tomorrow I may see
A day that may bring happiness,
And fortunes good to me.

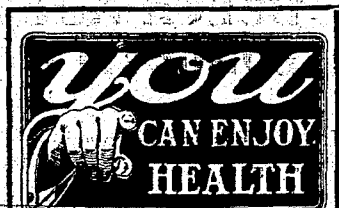

For him who sees each sunrise
With but fear of more despair,
And starts each day despondent
With a thought of much to bear,
Will never be successful,
For success comes only to
The one who knows there's sunshine
In the life he's passing through.

And the man who always sees success,
Is the one who sees life's trials,
As only a turn of the wheel of fate
And passes them on with smiles.
So, you who would lead a life of cheer
Without troubles to make you blue,
Must never trouble trouble,
Until trouble troubles you.

Goiter is a condition in which there is an increase in the size of the Thyroid Gland. It is commonly classified as simple or external, and Exophthalmic or Internal Goiter. Many people suffering from this condition feel that there is no relief for them. Such is not the case. Chiropractic has proven that the real CAUSE of Goiter can be traced back to a deficiency in the supply of Nerve Energy to the Gland, such deficiency being caused by pressure on the nerves at the point where they leave the spine. Removal of this pressure by Chiropractic Adjustments has brought relief to many. Consult the Chiropractor about your condition at once and find how you can enjoy Health again.

MRS. SQUIRES REPORTS NURSES CONVENTION IN DETROIT

The National Nurses' convention in Detroit recently was a most inspiring affair. The whole United States was represented by nurses in every line of nursing activity.

There were divisions for private duty; public health and nursing education. In public health there were several subdivisions; discussions were led by very able men and women of the medical and nursing professions. The full report will be given in September by the local nursing committee meeting.

The outstanding point in the discussions were budgeting as the most economical way to a new nursing organization whether hospital or public health; how to best care for communicable disease and the general welfare of the child and what is necessary to obtain it.

In financing public health work it was held by the speakers that such should be done by donations until its value was proven and then supported by the taxes but in order that they be not burdensome every one, who receives definite service from the health work should pay for it so far as they are able. Thus we will follow the truly American custom of supply and demand. Anything of value is worth paying for, and it is of no value if not paid for.

In communicable disease the actual nursing of cases was held important and desirably and decidedly possible if the nurse has been well trained and if the doctors have faith in her technique, and if the community understand the method.

It is only by demonstration that the community can learn but it must be certain that all parties are properly educated to such a plan in order to make a success. An excellent demonstration of public health nursing of communicable disease was given.

In welfare work the very able speaker said that the teaching of self control to the child was of greatest importance. The necessity of religious training of the child and the importance of mental and moral health with physical was dwelt upon. Of some 200 children in the juvenile court, the police woman said, not one could say that their mother had taught them self control or to deny themselves anything that was pleasant.

Education on all sides of hygiene was said by Dr. Dixon to be necessary before the age of nine years. By that time the child is educated right or wrong.

Habit formation is accomplished in the first five years of life showing the responsibility of the mother in producing sound mind and sound body. The greatest factors are religion, self control and training. The nurse must teach personal responsibility and community responsibility. The only protection is full information. Training must be given in the cradle. The results will show later. We get results not next year but thirty years from now.

Crawford's nurse also attended her alumnae banquet of the Farland nurses training school, with 300 nurses, representing, with two exceptions, all the classes from 1886 to 1924. Some of the oldest graduates still in the active nursing field. Miss Elizabeth Parker, of Lansing, was one of these.

The big entertainment was a boat ride given by the Parke-Davis Co. and a visit to their plant where all the nurses were conducted thru their laboratories. A choir of student nurses from all the schools of Detroit sang at the last meeting when an address on nurses and the public was given. The doctor who gave the address was a very clever speaker. One story he told was that Johnny Mudturtle had been taught by his mother to draw in his head when he heard a strange noise and soon the danger would pass by and he could go on but in the present day of cement roads and fast-moving vehicles if he did so in crossing one of those roads he would probably be promptly flattened out but if he put out his head and stepped lively he might get on. So he said with public health work. To draw in our heads and keep still means to die. To put it out and step lively in the face of difficulties means success. He said also that the nurse works not for the public but with the public, if she succeeds.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS HAS FINE RECORD.

Miss Florence Lodge's little folks class of the M. P. Sunday school of Frederic has a fine record of attendance. There is an enrollment of 25 children ranging in age from the cradle roll to eight years. Out of this number there are four with a perfect attendance, seven who have missed two Sundays and two who have missed three Sundays during the past year.

Those who have not missed attendance are Ruby Hart, Paul Bender, Lynn Doremire and Helen Bader. Those who have missed but two Sundays are Lucy Brannaman, George Brannaman, Elvora Barber, Erma Barber, Nellie Bader, Florence Bader, and Junior Hart. Those who have missed three Sundays are Paul Hart and Jack Bader.

Will the person who stole my auto trailer please return at once and save trouble.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

R. D. BAILEY
County Agricultural Agent

Another Big Step Forward.
About two weeks ago, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Schreiber Jr., of "The Evergreens," in South Branch township, drove to Traverse City, carefully inspected the stock for sale from the noted Holstein herd, at the State Hospital there, selected one, and brought it right home in the car. The splendid bull calf that they brought was ten days old, cost $75, and comes of a line of splendid producers, that make a thousand pounds or over, of butter in one year. Mr. Schreiber is to be praised for his courage in this purchase, and for taking his wife into his plans. Mrs. Schreiber is 42, praised for her study of pedigrees, and for taking a personal interest in the selection of an animal that will finally have so much to do with the family fortunes.

When this outstanding young bull is grown and adds his influence to the already fine Schreiber herd, there will be a bunch of beautiful milkers that is going to cause others, who have just as good a chance, to wish that they too had started early and had faithfully stuck to their ideals. Remember the old saying: "You needn't expect to reap where you do not sow."

We Are Doing Well.

We are getting a goodly number of high quality Holstein bulls into Crawford county. There are three or four places yet where one ought to be placed. The county agent will be glad to assist in placing animals there, as he often knows where bargains are to be had.

Alfred Nephew Moves Forward.
The New York Central Lines through the county agent, has loaned a fine, mature, registered Holstein bull to Mr. Alfred Nephew, of Lovells. After trial of various breeds Mr. Nephew has settled on Holsteins, and has made a good start by heading his herd with a bull of quality.

Finds it a Good Thing.

Although the county agent sent every farmer in the county an earnest appeal, each fall for three years, to put up ice in a simple, cheap ice house, for the comfort it would give the family, and the aid in the keeping of butter and cream, many failed to make a move or do anything about it.

Noticing a neat little log building on the Reuben Ellis farm on the Roscommon road in Beaver Creek township, we asked him what it was for. Mr. Ellis replied with commendable pride that it was his new ice house, and that it came in mighty handy in his sweet cream trade.

Some have so little in life because they fail to reach out and seize good ideas as they come along.

Good Crops for Sale.

On the State Experimental farm just outside the village of Grayling there will soon be for sale a good many acres of standing alfalfa, sweet clover, and rye. Later there will be corn fodder, sunflowers, soy beans for hay, and potatoes, for sale at very reasonable prices, the purchaser to cut and make his own hay.

Farmers who are interested should see the county agent at once.

How to Know Which is Which.

Most people are keeping some hens that are no good as layers. This is not necessary, for there are now ways by which unprofitable hens can be picked out with great certainty.

Farmers can soon learn these ways.

Some of the rules that some use to tell good hens from poor ones are a joke, and not founded on reason or science at all.

I tried to secure a culling demonstration from the Agricultural college for a whole week, but could get one for two days only.

He will be here next week Friday and Saturday, July 18th and 19th.

Who want to have a demonstration at their house? All you have to do is to have the hens shut up when we arrive. The demonstration will not hurt your hens. He will show you and your neighbors how to cull right. We stay at a farm from an hour and a half to two hours.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

Boys' Camp.

The first annual boys' camp of Grayling will be held from July 21 to August 3. The site will be announced in a later edition. Any boy between the ages of 10 and 17 years of age is eligible to this camp. The cost will be five dollars and includes transportation, food and shelter. Any boy who is interested or any parent who would like their son to take this outing see Mr. Richards at the Boy Scout headquarters in the Health center.

The boys will be capably looked after and good wholesome food will be provided by a competent cook. The time will be spent in study, games, swimming, hikes, woodcraft, and many other activities dear to the heart of the boy.

Parents, give your boy the privilege of doing the thing he has often wished he could do, that of getting out in the open, to make his own lean to, to sleep in it, to trail his camp mates thru the woods, study nature first hand, to sit around the campfire in the evening and listen to stories of adventure and interest until bedtime and then to roll in and sleep as he never did before. He will come back happier, healthier and more willing to do the things he should do. Let him go to the boys' camp, to the companionship he longs for.

THE BOY SCOUT FUND.

After two years of earnest effort by the Womans club to promote the organization of the Boy Scout movement, the Boy Scout council have finally secured an instructor from the Central State Normal school, to carry on this work. Mr. Richards, comes highly recommended as a Boy Scout leader and play ground instructor, and is already proving himself a most capable young man for the position.

Following is the amount of money as donated by the different lodges and earned by the Womans club:

May 2, 1922—Womans club, 31.35
Father and Son banquet, 31.50
June 13, 1922—Masonic Order, 51.50
June 13, 1922—Mr. R. Hanson, 100.00
June 29, 1922—Odd Fellows, 25.00
Jan. 9, 1924—Knights of Pythias, 25.00
Jan. 9, 1924—Womans Club, 57.15
Total, $300.00

of his flock of 100 and got just as many eggs as before.

I will send every farm family a card telling when and where the culling in the neighborhood will take place.

The little time spent in attending the demonstration will be profitably spent.

It will make money for those who have gumption enough to attend.

Don't kid yourself that you are too busy.

We have been blessed with some good rains.

There is still time for an enterprising, hasty farmer to put in a nice little block of alfalfa or sweet clover. This is a good time to do it.

Nicely fit even two acres of ground; drag in two sacks of acid phosphate per acre; sow ten pounds of inoculated, scarified seed, and you will have one of the nicest little blocks of hay or pasture on the farm.

Why not try it? Why stay in a rut?

Knock-out Evidence.

In passing the farm of Mr. Hans Peter Jensen a short time ago, I saw what seemed to me to be splendid proof of the desirability of alfalfa and of its superiority over clover in dry weather.

Mr. Jensen is a good, careful farmer; yet, the clover was curled down by dry weather so that it would not amount to much at that time anyhow. Right beside it on the same kind of land, Grimm alfalfa stood knee high, thrifty and dark green. Alfalfa is a very deep-rooted legume, and these roots go down to water while other kinds of hay are drying up.

As I passed Mr. Jensen's fine alfalfa, I expressed the wish that every farmer might see it, and see how much better it is than clover growing by it in the same field.

The feeding value of alfalfa is once and a half times as great as an equal weight of clover.

Besides that, alfalfa can be cut twice each year and a field of it lasts many years.

Pig Heaven.

A farmer who wishes to raise pigs cheaply, well and easily should have an acre of alfalfa for them to pasture in. Turn in the old sow and pigs and they will thrive if their drink is attended to.

A farmer who has never tried it will be surprised how many pigs an acre of alfalfa will pasture. On our farm eight or ten pigs make so little impression on the acre of alfalfa pig pasture that we have to cut the alfalfa and make hay. Be a sport and put in a good two-acre block of alfalfa early this month.

PROCEEDINGS OF CIRCUIT COURT

Circuit court convened Tuesday afternoon with Judge Guy E. Smith on the bench. Very few cases were on the calendar and none that required much time; thus making adjournment possible that same afternoon. The following disposition was made of the cases on the calendar:

Criminal Cases.

The People vs. Bert Damoth, for violation of the prohibition law, that was continued from former terms, was again continued.

The People vs. Floyd Mathias, for abandonment, was nolle prosequi.

The People vs. James Pratt, for violation of the prohibition law, plea of guilty entered and sentence was deferred to next term.

The People vs. Maurice Sutliff, for violation of the prohibition law, plea of guilty entered. Placed under probation for one year. Both Pratt and Sutliff were severely censured by Judge Smith, who told the men it was only because of their children that they were not at once sentenced to a State prison.

Civil Cases.

Among the civil cases, Paul Dinsmore was given a judgment against Ed Feldhauser of $657, in assumption.

Chancery Cases.

Dorothy Johnson vs. Elmer Johnson, divorce; continued to next term.

Kenneth McLeod paid back alimony and was released until next term of court when the question of alimony will be re-considered.

Henry Uhlenhoff was granted citizenship papers.

One a beautiful mahogany clock, valued at $12 and the second prize a set of silver knives and forks, valued at $10.00.

The contest closes Saturday night. All reports must be on file in the Avalanche office by that time. Any one requiring extra copies of the Home Loyalty and Prosperity edition will be supplied free by calling at the Avalanche office.

Somebody is going to get these prizes. It may as well be you, and you can win by making a little effort. Get a copy of the paper and tell us the correct answer to the questions. It only takes a short time to do this.

And if you don't win a prize, everyone answering all questions, whether they are exactly correct or not, will receive free a three months subscription to the AVAANCHE.

SUNSHINE MISSION IS STILL LIVING.

After four weeks absence from Grayling in revival work in several lumber and wood camps, it was my privilege to be here with the people of God for the Lord's day. God wonderfully met with us. We also had a fine street meeting Saturday night, and Monday night. We had one of the best street meetings at Frederic I ever witnessed in all my work of the ministry, and the Lord willing, we expect to begin an old fashioned, sin killing heart cleansing Holy Ghost revival at Frederic, about July 20th. The pilgrims of that place are making plans for the Revival. Everybody for this sound is invited to attend this meeting.

Brother Dickinson of Roscommon will supply the work at the Mission at the Henry Harder home, while I am at my home in Owosso for a little rest, having been away from my family since April 29th.

L. D. Kirby, Pastor.

IN MEMORIAM.

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear son and brother Ernest B. Barber who departed this life three years ago today, July 3, 1921.

Off and off our thoughts do wander To a grave not far away Where we laid our dear son and Brother three years ago today.

More each day we miss you Friends may think the wound is healed But they little know the sorrow That lies in our hearts concealed.

Peaceful be thy rest, dear loved one, It is sweet to breathe thy name. In life we loved you dearly In death we do the same.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Barber and family.

NEW $50,000 SCHOOL AND A NEW PARSONAGE AT FREDERIC.

America is committed to Education. It has been fully determined that education shall have the right of way. Whether the masses of the people are to be educated is not discussed any longer.

The question has been settled. The coming generation will be the best educated generation that has yet appeared in the history of mankind. Our magnificent public school system, rising in every community, will put an education within reach of every boy and girl.

The American people are ready to spend any amount of money needed to meet the educational requirements of this new age, and we are glad that the citizens of Frederic have adopted the vision and have already begun to erect such a school building that will be a credit to the whole community and such that our boys and girls will receive the best education of their day.

But there is one question that has not been answered yet.

Will the educational life of the nation be controlled by the spirit and mind of Christ. The church is the mother of education, and the church and school should go hand-in-hand in advancing christian education.

The people of Frederic and community believe that the church must continue its work in this part of the State, and in order to continue, or take new ground, a new parish house is necessary.

The Michigan Conference is willing to lend its assistance in a large capacity, in the erection of a new house and seeks the cooperation and help of all the citizens, in this advanced step for the Mas-a's kingdom.

As yet the community has not been solicited, but shortly this will be done. Will not the friends of the Methodist Protestant church offer your contributory and cooperation in our work for the erection of a new parsonage?

A friend will furnish gravel and haul same on the ground.

Wallace, chairman and John Baird director of the State conservation department will be at the meeting, and matters pertaining to the betterment of trout fishing, propagation, planting, protection and species will be discussed. It is the desire that some action be taken at this meeting tending toward the improvement of conditions of the AuSable and its tributaries.

Local Chairman M. Hanson says that everyone interested in these streams should be present, and are hereby invited to attend the meeting that will be held at 6 p. m. Saturday July 26th. ### A TRIBUTE TO NURSES.

"About as good looking and wholesome a lot of women as I've seen," remarked a man in the lobby of the Hotel Statler, "are members of the visiting Nurses' association. Judging from the way they fill the lobby of the hotels there must be at least 3,000,000 here, and they have all the available rooms in the hotels. But what struck me forcibly was the absence of artificiality. I have not seen a pair of lips colored out of all human reckoning, or cheeks rouged until the owner appeared unnatural, or with plucked eyebrows, and other examples of the beauty parlor mal-treatment. All these women looked real, genuine, and just naturally won what we should always be glad to give, our unqualified admiration. I'm for the nurses and I'm not sick either."

THE OPINIONS OF A MODERN WOMAN.

"Women believe in prohibition because it has removed the fear of the corner saloon from their lives. The mother who breaks the prohibition law has lost a great deal of her right to demand the obedience of her children," were the statements made by Miss Esther McDonald, of Columbia University, at the banquet of the College Students' Conference in behalf of obedience of law and citizenship, held recently in Washington. Miss McDonald spent last summer in a factory, and says that while some of the men friends of the industrial women resent prohibition, the industrial women themselves without exception are for it.

"What the Modern Woman thinks of prohibition," she declared, "is the so-called 'upper class' girls who are 'feeling a wonderful new freedom' are not typical, and do not deserve the attention they are receiving at this time. In her address, she said in part:

"As a factory girl this summer I was interested in gleaning the opinion of my fellow workers concerning the Eighteenth amendment. Some of the men folks of my industrial girl friends seemed to resent prohibition, feeling that it made a further class distinction because the wealthy man found it easy to purchase immunity from any observance of that particular part of the constitution. But the women workers, almost without exception, were for it because they found that to them it had given a degree of freedom that they had never known before. They could now be free from much of that horrible anxiety that had always been associated in their minds with the corner saloon."

"Most of them are pretty sure now that their husbands or fathers will bring their pay envelopes home without any serious dent in them—something they have always had reason to doubt before. And so, for the industrial women, I found the Eighteenth Amendment means freedom, and since they love freedom as much as their college or society sisters they are not apt to want to give it up."

There are many facts that the modern women takes into account in exercising her choice of conduct. She recognizes that all the facts show those who drink even moderately do not have as fair a chance for a long and vigorous life as those who never use alcoholic beverages.

"She knows that it is decidedly undesirable for us to get to be a nation of lawbreakers. She knows that other countries are watching us to see whether the greatest republic in the world can enforce its own organic law. She does not recognize the

The Proof.

Paying Teller—But, madam, you will have to be identified before I can cash this check for you.

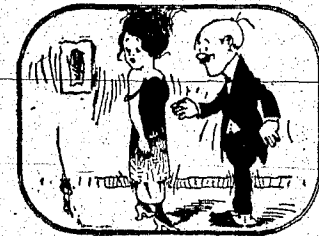

Fair Caller (blushing furiously)—Oh, I just hate to do it, and George would be dreadfully angry, but I have a love letter here which describes me fully, if you care to see it.

Quick Thinking.

Gordon Gln—Speaking of scandal, the last time I saw Miss Billings she wasn't able to walk.

Mr. Billings (who has overheard him)—What do you mean, sir?

Gordon Gln (hastily)—Er—she was too young—you see it was twenty years ago!

ART

Very Comforting.

"If money is really vocal. Then I'll say," quoth Harry Hupp. "It's an optimistic talker. For it cheers a fellow up."

Wifely Optimism.

Hub—When I see all those bills I get tired of living. Do you think the time will ever come when we shall be out of debt?

Wife (cheerfully)—Why not, dear? You know you are carrying an exceptionally large life insurance.—Boston Evening Transcript.

Patience Overplayed.

"A farmer has to be patient." "Yes," replied Farmer Cornstossel; "but he overdoes it when he don't do nothing but sit on a fence and wait for a real estate boom."—Washington Star.

DEATH TAKES SON OF PRESIDENT

YOUTH PUTS UP BRAVE STRUGGLE BUT POISON OVERCOMES HIS STRENGTH.

SINKING SPELL BALKS DOCTORS

Infection Which Brings End Caused By Blister Received While Playing Tennis.

Washington—Calvin Coolidge, Jr., the 16-year-old son of President and Mrs. Coolidge, is dead from blood poisoning. The end came after the boy had battled with the utmost bravery and fortitude for five days against a disease which had racked his body with pain and sapped the reserve strength of his frail constitution.

President and Mrs. Coolidge, who had maintained constant vigil at the hospital, were at his bedside, hopeful and cheering and comforting their son to the last.

A sinking spell, the fourth he had suffered in 24 hours, brought death. Notwithstanding the use of oxygen and other restoratives, the courage which had withstood crisis after crisis and had beaten death off repeatedly, was unable to meet the final attack.

Every resource of medical science was brought into play in vain to save young Calvin's life. An operation was performed on the left leg to drain off the poison and blood transfusions and oxygen were resorted to in the later days of his illness.

One of the final complications and the one which the physicians were unable to meet was the formation of gas on the stomach. The organ was washed out repeatedly in an effort to put it in condition to retain nourishment, but the effort was unsuccessful.

The infection developed from a broken blister on the right foot, sustained during a tennis match with his elder brother, John, on the White House courts. At first paying no attention to it, the youth soon developed an alarming condition and physicians were summoned.

The poison, however, once started had spread so rapidly that medical skill was without avail. A number of specialists were called to act with White House physicians on the case and a desperate fight for life was made by the boy, who struggled in great pain and with high fever.

Calvin was born April 13, 1908, at Northampton, Mass., and went through the grade schools of that city and then entered the high school, completing the first year after his father had come to Washington as vice-president in 1921. Both he and his brother, John, who is 17 years of age, the next year entered Mercersburg academy at Mercersburg, Pa., John being graduated last month while Calvin had another year before him. John is to enter Amherst, the president's alma mater, this fall, and Calvin was to have followed him.

CHICAGO HAS PROGRESSIVE PLAN

To Spend $2,679,000,000 for General City Improvements.

Chicago—Projects which will entail an expenditure of approximately $2,679,000,000, are in various stages of development for the beautification of the city, health, commercial and industrial progress of Chicago, according to the Chicago Chamber of Commerce.

Projects under way, or soon to be total $1,374,537,000, a summary shows while those in the preliminary stage will cost $1,305,463,000. The latter include the various terminal propositions, municipal purchase of the surface and elevated lines, construction of a subway and proposed new portofice and federal building.

Railway terminal solution is forecast by the association in plans which call for $318,000,000 to be spent. Seven new hotels are valued at $94,000,000. Educational institutions have a program with a total of $54,500,000; reconstruction of the Fine Arts Building, erection of the Stadium, Shedd Aquarium and prospective zoological park, $10,500,000; clubhouses, $47,000,000; public utilities, $72,250,000; sewage treatment works, $120,000,000; and $200,000,000 worth of minor building.

MILLION READY FOR BIG CHURCH

New York—Underwriting of the first $1,000,000 toward erection of New York's first skyscraper church announced by Barron G. Collier, at a meeting of interested parties, at which the Rev. Dr. Christian F. Reisner, pastor of the Chelsea Methodist Episcopal skyscraper idea, was guest of honor.

The project, to eventually cost $4,000,000, will be financed by bond issues secured by mortgage on land and buildings. The site is at Broadway and 173rd street. Most of the building will be in apartments and rooms for young men.

Surmounting a 24-story tower will be an electric cross, exceeding in altitude the building mark set now by the Woolworth building tower.

LOCALS WIN ONE AND LOSE ONE.

The base ball season started in earnest in Grayling last Saturday and Sunday, when the locals took on the fast Onaway team. The Saturday game was an exciting one. Onaway started in taking the lead and held it until Grayling tied the score in the eighth inning 7 to 7. An extra inning was played, Grayling getting the winning run. Clarence Johnson was on the mound for Grayling, with "Mitch" McLeod behind the bat. This game was enjoyed by a good crowd.

The Sunday game was looked forward to be the best of the two games but turned out to be a ragged game of ball. The players on both sides had many disputes during the game over the umpires' decisions. The game ended in a score of 13 to 9. Laurent and McLeod were the battery for Grayling and Torongau and Johnson for Onaway. There was not the crowd present at the Sunday game that there should have been, and the locals lost money that day. If the fans do not turn out any stronger than they did Sunday, it is probable that but very few at home games will be played.

The team will go to East Jordan next Sunday to play the team of that place.

The state public health department at Lansing have issued bulletins to all health officers recommending 100 per cent vaccination. They claim that if all persons who have not been vaccinated within four years will again be vaccinated that the epidemic of small pox that is raging in some places in the state will soon be wiped out. The epidemic that was extremely severe in Detroit is now on a decline due, the health authorities say, to the general vaccination that has been going on there. Communities where this immunity has not been provided, it is claimed, are by no means safe from smallpox attack.

YOUNG FARMER PLEADS GUILTY

STATE DETECTIVE UNCOVERS CONCLUSIVE PROOF OF MURDER OF WIFE

When Ralph Lindsley, a young farmer of St. Joseph county, pleaded guilty in circuit court to the murder of his wife, he admitted the facts which had been disclosed by unusual detective work.

One morning Lindsley drove into Sturgis and reported to the chief of police that Mrs. Lindsley had committed suicide by shooting herself. The coroner and other officials found the woman's body lying in a pool of blood, with a bullet wound in the forehead, and a revolver lying close by.

H. Erickson of the state Bureau of Identification was sent for and took a complete set of photographs, also taking the finger prints found upon the revolver barrel, Lieutenant John S. Palmer, in charge of the criminal investigation bureau of the Department of Public Safety then took the case.

Tests were made with the revolver which showed that the woman could not have shot herself, inasmuch as powder burns were lacking which would have occurred if she had held the gun.

In seeking a clue to the motive for the killing, Lieutenant Palmer learned that Lindsley had been attentive to a young married woman of the neighborhood. Search was made and the fragments of a 16-page letter, which had been read and torn up and the pieces thrown away, were gathered. It took a day and a night to put the letter together and then the motive was plain.

Lindsley had planned to get rid of his wife and also of the other woman's husband, it appeared.

Finger prints of the revolver and measurements showing the direction of the bullet and approximate firing of the height from which it was fired were other details entering into the case.

Finally, the burden of evidence being too strong to be overcome, Lindsley came into court and pleaded guilty. He is now serving his sentence in Jackson prison.

MICHIGAN HAS NAVY ON DETROIT RIVER

Commissioner Harry H. Jackson of the Department of Public Safety might now add the title of "admiral" to his name. He is in command of a fleet of four armed speed boats, which are now patrolling the border waters between Ontario and Michigan. Their mission is to do away with the smuggling, principally of liquor, which has been such a heavy traffic in the narrow waters.

Inasmuch as, George, in Wayne county, has been the receiving point for a very large share of the liquor slipped across the border, it will receive particular attention from the fleet boat by day and by night.

Several smuggling vessels were picked up in the first week of operations of the fleet.

KNOCK A WHOLE ROW OF MAIL BOXES DOWN

A dozen rural mail boxes at the roadside near Memphis, Macomb County, were found knocked down one morning. Sergeant Frank Walker of the St. Clair detachment of the State Police found an automobile hub cap nearby. He searched the garages in Memphis until he found a car with a bent radiator and missing cap. Orville Kinsey was the owner and he pleaded guilty to destroying property and paid a fine of $50.

THAT'D BE ALL RIGHT
